Lessons from TANF:

TANF Serves Hardly Any Poor Families in Some States

In 14 states in 2014-15, TANF provided cash assistance to ten or fewer of every 100 poor families with children

TANF = Temporary Assistance for Needy Families

Note: Poor families with children received benefits under Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) in 1995-96, before TANF replaced AFDC under the 1996 welfare law.

WE HAVE AN OBLIGATION TO ACT
Social Workers: Agents of Social Change

Social workers have an ethical responsibility to work towards social change.

We are charged to promote social & economic justice.

We carry the torch for those who need help to succeed.

We are uniquely equipped for policy advocacy.
NASW Code of Ethics Preamble

• Focus on individual well-being in a social context and the well-being of society
• Understand the environmental forces that create, contribute to, and address problems in living
• Promote social justice and social change
• Strive to end discrimination, oppression, poverty, and other forms of social injustice
• Engage in community organizing, advocacy, education, social and political action, and policy development and implementation
Social Workers Have a Powerful Voice

- Our connection to social justice advocacy is what distinguishes social work from other professions
- Social workers have always been on the forefront of social justice advocacy
INTRODUCTION TO ADVOCACY
Advocacy Definitions

- Public policy: Decisions we make at every level of government that direct how we will care for one another, our communities, and the land.

- Advocacy: Attempts to influence decision-making systems.

- Lobbying: An advocacy process of influencing public policy at federal, state, and local levels.

- Social Justice: The view that everyone deserves equal economic, political, and social rights and opportunities.

- Social Change: The transformation of culture values and norms and social institutions over time.

How to Select Issues

- What policy barriers are impacting my work?
- What policies are threatening vulnerable and oppressed populations?
- Where are my passions and unique areas of knowledge?
- What are the ‘SALIENT’ issues?
- What issues have organized efforts or campaigns?
What disparities exist among different groups?

Does the advocacy effort worsen or ignore existing disparities?

How might the effort affect each group? How might each group perceive the effort?

Are all racial/ethnic groups who could be affected currently engaged at any level?

What steps can we take to build social, economic, and political power of these groups?
HOW TO ENGAGE IN ADVOCACY EFFORTS

Understanding the Territory & Tips for Messaging and Meetings
Know the Territory

- State officials
  - Governor, C. L. “Butch” Otter
  - Lieutenant Governor, Brad Little
  - Secretary of State, Lawerence Denney
  - State Controller, Brandon Woolf
  - State Treasurer, Ron Crane
  - Attorney General, Lawrence G. Wasden
  - State Superintendent, Sherri Ybarra
- Idaho Legislature
  - Representatives (35)
  - Senate (70)

- Congressional Delegation
  - Senator Mike Crapo
  - Senator James E. Risch
  - Representative Raúl Labrador
  - Representative Mike Simpson

- State Judicial Branch
  - District Courts
  - Idaho Supreme Court
Know the Territory

• The policy process varies for different legislative bodies
  • Idaho’s legislative process is traditionally slow
  • Idaho Legislators have limited staff assistance
  • Congressmen are harder to reach

• Know when your voice will be heard
  • Public Hearings on the issue
  • Lobbying elected officials
  • Rallies and town hall meetings

“Social advance depends as much upon the process through which it is secured as upon the result itself.”
- Jane Adams
Identify Tactics & Opportunities

- Rallies/turnout events
- Petition drives
- Letter writing
- Visits with public officials
- Public hearings
- Mass demonstrations
- Accountability sessions
- Educational meetings
- Civil disobedience and arrest
- Legal Disruptive tactics (picket lines)
- Boycotts
Identify Advocacy Campaigns
Convey Your Message Effectively

1. Convey a Values-Based Message
2. Focus on the solution
Convey Your Message: Tips

1. Values first
2. Be aspirational
3. Elevate public systems
4. Focus on ‘we’
5. Share your story
Convey Your Message: Caution

• Don’t Go Negative:
  • Don’t use language that ‘otherizes’
  • Don’t step into the other side’s ‘frame’

• Don’t use jargon and use statistics sparingly
• Don’t repeat stereotypes

• You should never:
  • Lie
  • Argue
  • Ramble
  • Be sarcastic, critical, or threatening
The Power of Relationship Building

- We are in this work for the long haul!
  - Take time to build relationships with elected officials
  - Set the stage for a relationship by inviting the official to your site to get to know you

- Remember that each encounter with an elected official is part of an ongoing conversation

It's all about relationships
Tips for Talking with Elected Officials

1. YOU can make a difference and be an agent of change
2. Elected officials want to hear from you
3. There are a variety of opportunities to communicate with your officials
4. “What” you want to communicate is as important as “how” you communicate
5. Establish short-term and long-term goals
Tips for Talking with Elected Officials

6. You are unlikely to agree on every issue
7. You aren’t expected to know everything
8. Always say “thank you”
9. If you visited in person, don’t forget to send a follow-up note
10. Become as involved and informed as possible!
“Social work is not nor should it be a neutral profession.”
